Dear Parent/Carer,

To celebrate the Coronation of King Charles III, we have a variety of activities planned for tomorrow. The younger children will be making bunting, stamps with their own faces on, union jacks and learning about the new King and Royal family tree. They have also created art work which is currently on display in the Askwith phone box. The older children will be creating Coronation themed art and learning about the history and meaning of the Coronation ceremony. The art work will form part of the art exhibitions on 21st and 28th June. School have bought each child a commemorative Coronation pencil, these are being handed out today.

Assessment season is upon us. Next week, the children in year 6 have their Key Stage 2 SATs. The children have worked hard preparing for these National Tests and I know they will do their best. During May, the children in year 2 will be assessed for the Key stage 1 SATs. The children have been preparing for these less formal assessments as part of their usual lessons. During the first two weeks after half term, the children in year 4 will do their Multiplication Tables Check. The relevant information about these assessments for parents of children in years 2, 4 and 6 is being sent home today.

As listed in Dates for your Diary, parents are invited to come into school at the end of this half term to share in their child's learning. See timetable of events below. Please sign in for the 'Come & Play' and 'Come & Do Maths', no need to sign in for Worksharing.
